

ATTENTION:

The newly formatted 2007 Kentucky Building Code is effective July 6, 2007. You may continue to design / build your project under the 2002 Kentucky Building Code until September 30, 2007. If you are submitting plans for review, please identify the specific edition of the code you want your project reviewed and inspected.

After September 30, 2007 all projects submitted will be reviewed by the 2007 Kentucky Building Code.

If you request that your project be re-evaluated under the other code after the initial review has been conducted, the project will be subjected to an additional plan review fee and will be entered in to the plan review rotation at the date of the request for re-evaluation.
